

Cent Account Terms and Conditions

Terms&Conditions

Account Registration: In order to access the Cent Account, clients are required to register on the WeTrade platform and complete the Know Your Customer (KYC) process by uploading the necessary identification documents. Upon registration, clients will be automatically assigned a Regular STP account as their primary trading account.

Opening a Cent Account: To open a Cent Account, clients need to apply for an additional trading account in the WeTrade client portal and select the Cent Account option during the additional account setup process.

Spreads: The spreads offered on the Cent Account are the same as those on the Regular STP account. Please note that the Cent Account does not have access to the spreads offered on VIP and ECN accounts.

Currency Denomination: The Cent Account operates using Cent as the base currency unit. This means that both funds and profits/losses will be displayed in Cent.

Trading Instruments: The Cent Account is exclusively designed for trading forex and spot metal products. Only these instruments are available for trading on the Cent Account.

Micro Lots: Cent Account trades are conducted in Micro Lots (also known as Cent Lots), 1 Cent Lot equals 1,000 units of the base currency.

Leverage: The maximum leverage for the Cent account is 1:500 for forex trading and 1:250 for metals trading.

WeTrade Social: Cent account can only copy orders from other Cent accounts strategy providers.

Exclusion from WeTrade Rewards: Trading volumes traded on the Cent Account do not accumulate WeTrade Rewards points for the WeTrade Rewards Program.

WeTrade Honours Membership Club: Trading on the Cent Account contributes to the calculation of membership growth values, allowing clients to progress and unlock higher membership levels.

Participation in Online Campaigns: The Cent Account may not be eligible to participate in certain online campaigns or promotions. The specific eligibility criteria and terms and conditions for each campaign will be outlined in the respective campaign rules.

WeTrade reserves the right to update or modify the trading conditions for the Cent Account, including the Micro Lot or Cent Lot measurement, in accordance with our terms and conditions. Clients will be duly notified of any changes through official channels.
